Hippie Decline

Carmel Police Chief Clyde Klaumann based a talk to the Hi 12 luncheon meeting on the rise and fall of the hippie movement.

Substantially, he said—In the beginning, this movement's participants were mostly of college student-caliber who wanted to protest many of the principles of the adult society. They claimed they could do as they wished with their own bodies. This included slovenly clothing and hair; irresponsible demeanor and free love.

Generally speaking the female of this group makes herself available to any convenient males. Wanting to get in on something good attracted many non-students and minority groups. The result of this intimate contact coupled with body filth was a rampant spread of disease. It was estimated that civic aid to these people in San Francisco alone exceeded $35,000 per month—paid by you Mr. Taxpayer.

The American Civil Liberties Union fostered the hippie movement considerably by issuing cards to these young people advising them on technicalities of their rights (strictly upheld by the judiciary), undermining police discipline.

Many local high school students joined the hippie movement on an amateur standing. With the demise of the hippie most of the apparent hippies now seen in Carmel's Devendorf Park are local students. Unfortunately, they are still subject to the same exploitations including use of narcotics.

"Up with People" At Sunset Center

In Hollywood, Gregory Peck told a black-tie crowd of 850 personalities, "You are going to feel genuine emotion and pride in the kind of character, dedication and involvement represented by this generation of Americans in 'Up With People'."

The show, to be seen and heard at Sunset Center tonight and tomorrow at 8:15, is packed with 28 original songs filled with dynamic ideas. The title song, "Up With People" was acclaimed by Billboard magazine as one of the top 50 numbers in the country. Other hits are "What Color is God's Skin?" "Freedom Isn't Free," and "In New York City."

The three U. S. national casts have performed in Germany, Austria, Spain, Venezuela, Mexico, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Japan, and Korea, largely at the requests of the individual governments.

WEATHER

Clearing starting tonight with a 60% chance of continuing. Day temperatures into the upper 50's, nights down in the 40's.

Airport to Re-Open

The Monterey Airport is scheduled to reopen for large passenger plane flights December 15th. A 1,000 foot section of the main runway has been repaired and 1,600 feet added to make a total length of 6,600 feet.

According to Robert Spencer of the Airport Board, the new runway will accommodate planes up thru DC-9s. The new 2-pod 737's to be used by Pacific Airlines will land with a good margin of safety.

The completion of these repairs will eliminate the necessity of bussing air passengers to the Salinas airport.

CARMEL IN DARKNESS

Every corner of Carmel was in darkness last night, and many hard working men came home to find no dinner ... all because of a transformer which went out at the PG&E substation in Carmel.

The city was without electricity for almost three hours and when the Pine Cone investigated the outage 20 minutes before PG&E workmen located the trouble, it talked briefly with retired Edison Electric employee Edward L. Smith, a neighbor to the substation. Smith said he saw four flashes of light from the transformer then the lights went out. He also mentioned that he had contacted the PG&E "trouble-shooters."

A PG&E representative told us later that visual checks indicated that the bushings of the transformer went out and that over an hour was spent replacing the defective transformer with a spare.

Lower TV Rates

In fifteen months or less those residents on Cable TV will watch a better quality picture and yet, pay much less ($5.50) per month to watch that picture ... so promised the Alarm Corporation at the City Council meeting last night.

Three hours were devoted to studying the proposed Cable TV ordinance as it affects the franchise and the public enjoyment of Cable (Continued on page 16)

Symphony Turns In Fine Performance

We may well be proud of our Monterey Symphony Orchestra. Under the able guidance of its director, Jan de Jong, a very fine concert was given Tuesday evening in the Sunset Auditorium.

The program opened with the Overture "Ruy Blas" by Mendelssohn. The brass and woodwinds gave a sturdy and authoritative opening to the impassioned introduction. The conductor kept the tempo brisk and the orchestra, in full-bodied tone, responded eloquently. The cellos sang in a warm blend of tonal color and there was clean attack in the upper strings.

Leona Gordon, soprano, a handsome young singer with an ingratiating stage presence, was heard in four operatic arias from "Rusalka" by Dvorak, from "La Traviata" by Verdi, from "Louise" by Charpentier and from "L'enfant Prodigue" by Debussy.

Miss Gordon's voice is full of glitter and brilliance, especially in the top register, and she sings with sincerity. If she does not plumb the deep recesses of the music she sings, it could be that time will correct that. Also to be corrected are her French diction and a tendency to erratic rhythm. But the audience loved her and gave her several recalls.

The Fourth Symphony in E Minor by Brahms which closed the program was the best achievement of the evening. The first movement was a bit heavy and labored to begin, but there was fine precision in the exuberant music which followed. The ending, in a grand flourish, was considerably abetted by the virtuosity of the timpani player.

The brooding, foreboding of the second movement was ushered in by the brass section. The plucked strings accentuated the running lines of the woodwinds, making the music still more poignant.

Dazzling was the third movement and superbly played, in spite of a change of instruments for the concertmaster because of a broken string.

The final movement was a compilation of all that had gone before. Almost chorale in effect were the choirs of woodwinds and brass. Dramatic declamation, rhythmically and tonally, brought the symphony to a blazing close.

Mr. de Jong was enthusiastically recalled for several bows which he shared with the orchestra. The ovation was richly deserved.

Theatre Review

"THE TAMING OF THE SHREW", a comedy by Shakespeare, has had audiences laughing for almost 400 years. The shrew is evil-tempered Katharina. In the motion picture version, Elizabeth Taylor is the shrew. And the man who tames her, Petruchio, is played by Richard Burton.

DR. ZHIVAGO. The screen version of Pasternak's novel, has a script by Robert Bolt but while beautiful and long, it lacks dramatic vitality. Also prominent in this romantic drama, set before background of the Russian revolution are Ralph Richardson and Ron Steiger. Many of the scenes are visually breathtaking.

TO SIR, WITH LOVE reminds you of what really warm good movies are like. It is a beautiful movie and perfect from top to bottom with a lot of mod action.

BLOW UP, of the dazzling madness of today's London. "Blow Up," the first English language film to be made by the internationally acclaimed director, Michelangelo Antonioni, has become the most talked about picture of the year. Everything about "Blow Up" is arresting and unusual, including the exciting photography, the "mod" costumes, but most of all the mood and mystery of a narrative which remains undefined.

COOL HAND LUKE. Paul Newman stars in an excellent movie which is fascinating both because of what it is on its surface and what lurks underneath. He is a loner at a chain gang camp, and through his defiance earns the worship of his fellow prisoners.

WAR GAMES. It may be the most important film ever made. We are always being told a work of art cannot change the course of history. This one might. It's fascinating... graphic... horrifying... fearful and forceful. Eminently worth seeing. The cast is exceptionally fine.

POINT BLANK. The forbidding "menace" of Alcatraz rubbed off on the cast and crew when MGM spent five days filming scenes at the former Federal Penitentiary for this taut and suspenseful drama. Luggage mysteriously disappeared, a girl fell overboard, a dog attacked a crew member and a star was accidentally shot in the right hand.

"LUV" COMING TO CIRCLE THEATRE

With Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" playing week-end evenings at the Circle Theatre to capacity audiences, producer-director Norman McPhee announces Murray Schisgal's greatest comedy "Luv" is currently in rehearsal and will have its gala opening on Friday evening, December 29.

The trio of Golden Bough Players selected by Mrs. McPhee are Peninsula favorites. The role of the desperate husband, in which Eli Wallach starred in the Broadway cast, will be played by Bob Lotz, a versatile and experienced actor. The "old college pal" will be played by Richard Bird. Circle Theatre favorite and member of the Board of Governors of the Community Theatre of Monterey Peninsula, Mr. Bird was recently seen in the Circle production of "Arms and the Man." Joyce Mallickoff, currently appearing as "Peep-Bo" in "The Mikado" will enact the alluring and frantic role of "Ellen Manville."

Friends of Photography

The Friends of Photography is currently showing Paul Strand at Sunset Center. A beautiful show. Open 1-4, daily, except Mondays.

Christmas Seals, for the benefit of fighting tuberculosis, are more beautiful than ever this year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

The second of two programs entitled "What Are You Giving Your Children?" will be heard this Sunday over Radio Stations KGO at 7:30, KMRL at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45 on the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to you." The need for parents to practice what they preach and let examples speak louder than words will be emphasized.

Opera Comes To Sunset

Rossini's "The Barber of Seville" will be presented this Saturday, December 9, at Sunset Auditorium as the second in the series of musical events in the Carmel Music Society's current season. The performance is scheduled for 8:30, and is a Western Opera Theater production under the direction of Herbert Grossman.

Director Herbert Grossman, its noted conductor, has been associated with the Munich Opera Theater in Germany, the New York City Opera, the Baltimore Symphony and Civic Opera and other noted symphony and opera groups in this country.

"The Barber of Seville" was written by Gioacchino Rossini when he was 25 and was first performed in Rome in 1816. It is a delightful love story set to music and contains Figaro's aria, one of the best loved songs in all of opera.

What Steckler Really Meant

Monday the Pine Cone had a chance to speak informally to Dr. Melvin Steckler, consultant to the City, to clear up a few matters in our minds concerning the Salary Proposal he presented the City Council last Wednesday evening.

Dr. Steckler said his intentions were not to point out that salaries were too high . . . nor was it to indicate they were too low, it was merely to present a plan which would give deserving City employees their due increases.

He said that the overall salary increases were about 170% over the past nine years; but that the individual employees experienced about 1/3 that percentage.

Dr. Steckler added, the taxpayers are wondering why the high overall salary budget increased so rapidly, while the employee is complaining that his salary is not increasing enough, competitively speaking.

Dr. Steckler then pointed out that because of the increase in cost of living, added personnel to the city force to perform extra duties the public demanded and step raises, this gap continues to grow.

His proposed salary plan will bring the percentages closer together, because under this program everyone will receive a set raise to compensate for changes in cost of living, while the deserving employee will gain substantial increases corresponding to their services to the City.

Ballet Benefits Museum

The technique which has gained Royal Ballet star Rudolf Nureyev international acclaim is exhibited in the filmed presentation of Prokofiev's "Romeo and Juliet." Dame Margot Fonteyn, equally renowned star of the Royal Ballet, dances Juliet to Nureyev's Romeo. The ballet, in full color with cast and stage sets used in Covent Garden Theatre productions in England, will be shown at Carmel's Village Theatre Dec. 13-19. The only place to obtain tickets is at the Carmel Museum of Art which is sponsoring the ballet's week-long run. The museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

CHIVALRY AMONG PICKPOCKETS

Pickpockets have "picked" over Carmel shoppers during the past several weeks. The most recent was reported by Dennis Greenberg of Oakland, who claimed he was relieved of his wallet containing $8 plus credit cards while walking along Ocean Avenue.

But the most peculiar incident happened to a Carmel resident during a visit to New York City where his pocket was picked aboard the 5th Avenue bus. The victim immediately cancelled his various credit cards and returned to Carmel.

A new breed of pickpocket is in New York, evidently, because two weeks later, his wallet, along with all his cards and identification—less the cash—was returned to him through the mail.

We wonder whether the money used for mailing is a legitimate business expense and is tax deductible?

Connie Nielsen Surprises Family

Constance Hall Nielsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Nielsen of San Francisco and Carmel, surprised her family last month by announcing that she and Victor Louis Pipino of Oakland had been married in Reno on November 18.

Connie was born in Carmel and was graduated from Carmel high schools and Stephens College. She has two sisters, (Nancy) Mrs. Mervin R. Sutton of Carmel, Penelope Nielsen of San Francisco, and a brother, Gregory H. Nielsen of Minneapolis. Mrs. M. K. Hall of Carmel is her grandmother.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pipino of Niles, Ohio. He is a graduate of Ohio State University and is now employed by Kaiser Engineers in Oakland where the couple will live.

Connie's father started Nielsen's Grocery 39 years ago, the longest time any Carmel business has been under one management. His place was taken by his son-in-law, Mervin Sutton, when he retired a few years ago.

Ted Holt Marries

Following a honeymoon in Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Edison Ames Holt, Jr. will live in Carmel. They were married recently by Reverend Karel Vit at Carmel Presbyterian Church, after which there was a reception at Gallatin's.

Metal Sculptress Opens

Miniature nature studies in metal and bronze sculpture are being shown in a new shop on Dolores near the post office. It will probably be called Deven's Shop after the six months old baby of the proprietress, De De Spitz, who does all the amusing little sculptures herself.

Shown on rough redwood stumps, Mrs. Spitz said she had always wanted to show her work outdoors in the "simple environment of the forest." Since she couldn't,

she decided to "bring the woods inside."

De De also does whimsical pen and ink sketches combined with water colors, as well as ceramics and enamels. She will be teaching both children and adults in all mediums of art.

Mrs. Spitz has shown in Chicago, New York, Cleveland and Florida. She has taught in Chicago and has served as art consultant to business firms for whom she has done murals.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

There are Christmas records in our collection and we have just ordered four more which we hope will arrive before the holidays. Beings-as-to-how the collection is still quite small, take them out one at a time.

We will have our annual party for library patrons on Friday, December 22, between two and four in the afternoon. Come in for a cup of coffee and a cookie or two. You're invited!!

In the blazing crescendo of communication in which we live today, the task of recommending books for others becomes more than a task, it becomes a menace. For this unhappy reason there will be no column on books for Christmas written by this chicken librarian. The thing to do is to go into a reputable bookshop and browse, browse, browse. When you find a book for a friend or relative, you will recognize it.

Eddie Rickenbacker has written his autobiography
complete with many pictures. Full of homely humor and family anecdote, the book takes Eddie Ricken-backer from the time he was a small boy until the present day. The final chapter is devoted to pictures of the many decorations he has won, and various citations which have been awarded to him, and to headlines in newspapers when he was reported lost, and later was found. This book should be especially interesting to those who recall the beginnings of air warfare and early automobile racing. The title is RICKENBACKER.
One of the most impressive things about the book is Rickenbacker's sincere and open-hearted patriotism and love of country. One can only imagine what would have happened if some draft-card burner had offered Rickenbacker a chance to participate in a demonstration against the government.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS READER was edited by Leon Friedman and it contains not only a history of the Civil Rights movement but it also gives the basic documents of the movement.
Arrangement of the book is chronological in that it begins with the Report of the Truman Committee on Civil Rights of 1947, and continues to the various happenings of 1965 and 1966. This is not pretty reading, but it is documented, and it is true.

THE COMPLETE BOOK OF VITAMINS was written by J. I. Rodale and it seems to be a very complete handling of the subject. The index is a good one. It is possible to check this index for whatever is troubling you and then read just how certain vitamins may be utilized to help in a cure. It is also possible to check under the name of the vitamin itself to learn what it can do and how it may be used to help in curing disease or maintaining health. It may be true that many of us do not get all the vitamins we need in our daily diet and if resulting deficiency conditions appear, this book should prove a great help.

We used to hear about the bills and bears of Wall Street but Dana Thomas has used as the title of his new book about the Street the expression THE PLUNGERS AND THE PEACOCKS. He says "People forget that the market throughout its history has been a two-way street. It has been subject, like everything else on this planet, to the pull of gravity.
It has steadfastly followed the law that everything that goes up must come down;
and the further up it goes,
the harder is the fall." Here are the foibles of the finan-

High Spots In South America

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Nielsen literally hit the high spots of Central and South America on their recent nine-weeks trip.

After a week in Acapulco, Mexico, they flew to Guatemala where they climbed 10,000 feet up in the mountains to Chichicastenago. There they admired the beautiful weaving and carving of the Mayan descendants. These people were the hardest working people they found. They grow their vegetables and crops on 15- or 20-acre farms which stay in the family for generations.

From Bogata, Colombia, they flew to Peru where they visited Cuzco, thirteen thousand feet up in the Andes, in the sacred valley of the Incas. They also visited the ruins of Machu Picchu, the lost city of the Incas.

Near Lima they saw the ruins of tribes who lived there 11,000 years ago. Since each civilization built on top of one another, they are still unearthing remains of different civilizations.

In the city of Buenos Aires they marveled at the leather goods made of ostrich or porcupine skins, ocelot, alligator or leopard.

They dined on very tender "loma (beef) steaks" and enjoyed the confiterias, a combination of cocktail lounge, tea room and soda fountain. These are open all day, from 10 a.m. to midnight, and no matter what one orders, double decker trays loaded with hors d'oeuvres and beautiful pastries are passed at no extra charge.

In Sao Paulo and Santos, Brazil, Mrs. Nielsen admired the fabulous jewelry, topaz, aquamarines and amethyst. The stones mined locally. Rio de Janeiro they found to be a jewel of a city with its bays and islands.

They had a glimpse of the new capital, Brasilia from the air, but they sympathized with the government officials who do not want to go there, since it is built on a flat plain and the weather is warm and humid.

Mr. Nielsen recalled the spectacular Iguassu Falls, third largest in the world, on the Parana River which borders Brazil, Argentina and Paraguay. In this river live the deadly piranha fish which reduce a human being to a skeleton in ten minutes.

Above the clouds, 7000 feet up from Caracas, Venezuela, they stayed at the Humboldt Sheraton Hotel which they reached by cable car. It is the most expensive hotel in the world since all the materials had to be transported that way, and supplies still do.

They loved sitting on the white beaches of the Caribbean islands at Barbados, Antigua and Dominica, but Jamaica they found too commercialized.

New Orleans was their port of re-entry. They found it such fun, they want to go back. Before heading back to the coast, they stopped at Chicago to see their three children, all of whom are in school at Purdue University.

TRIP TO JAPAN

Evelyn Scardigli, designer-owner of Studio 7, has just returned from three weeks in Japan. The trip was unique in that she traveled with 96 Japanese, members of the Japanese American Citizens League, from all over the United States.

The group received "red carpet" treatment and consequent entry to a number of activities and spots not available to the usual tourist.

Because of her interest in jewelry, she made visits to jewelry firms and a custom-design shop as well as Mikimoto's Pearl Island.

Visiting Lima, Peru

The Francis Heislars are traveling in South America where Dr. Friedy Heislars will attend a psychiatric conference in Lima, Peru. They will visit four countries before returning in January.

Dr. Heislars will continue giving her course in the emotional problems of adolescence at MPC, an extension course of UC Santa Cruz, for the benefit of secondary teachers, on her return.

Christmas In Bangkok

Mrs. Jens Doe and her daughter Mrs. Paul Connors are leaving soon for Vietnam where Lt. Connors is stationed. They will spend Christmas in Bangkok, after which they will spend a month in India.

Cool weather means cool buying by shopping the Pine Cone Ads.

Super Light Desserts

The French have a saying "Il vaut mieux aller au boulanger qu'au medecin" (It is better to go to the baker than to the doctor) and to prove this word of advice, we're selecting some very light and airy desserts from the cook booklet "c'est si bon!" printed for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund of the Alliance Francaise of the Monterey Peninsula. With rather rich and often heavy fruit cakes and plum puddings being served forth during the holidays, it will be a welcome relief gastronomically, and economically, to produce one or the other of the following:

Lemon Cream Sherbet

One pint milk; 1 cup sugar; grated rind of one lemon; juice of two lemons; ½ pint heavy cream; 2 egg whites; 2 tbsps. sugar.

Add the cup of sugar to the milk and allow it to dissolve. When thoroughly dissolved, add lemon rind and juice, stirring the while. Turn into refrigerator tray and freeze for one hour. Beat egg whites, adding the two tbsps. sugar. Whip the cream to thick custard consistency. Combine cream with egg whites. Remove frozen mixture from the tray to bowl and mash (or beat with electric egg beater). Combine with egg-cream mixture. Return to freezer.

The Carmel Pine Cone-Cymbal 9

tsp. each, powdered cinnamon and nutmeg; 1-2/3 cup flour; ¼ cup salad oil; ¼ cup water; 1 cup pumpkin, mashed; 2 beaten eggs; 1 cup chopped walnuts and raisins mixed.

Mix all ingredients in a large bowl; adding walnuts and raisins last. Pour into greased cake pan and bake at 325 F. for one hour and 5 minutes. Cool and frost with butter and sugar frosting, or if you are counting calories, leave plain.

Mrs. Henri Corbat of Carmel very soft. Sieve them and leave to become cool. Beat the egg whites stiff and fold them carefully into the sieved apples. Shake into a dome on a dish and refrigerate for 2 hours. Serve with macaroons if desired.

Apple Custard Pudding

Blend ¼ cup of flour with just enough milk to make a smooth, thick paste. Add 3 eggs and a pinch of salt. Mix well and stir in ¼ cup sugar dissolved in 2 cups milk. Pour the mixture into a buttered pie plate and arrange on it very thin apple slices in close concentric circles, as for an apple tart. The flavor is improved if the apple slices are marinated with a bit of rum. Bake in a slow oven (250) F. for 45 minutes and serve warm. Do not overcook this delicate dessert.

"C'est si bon" may be purchased at the Patisserie Boissiere, Carmel Plaza.

Lovely Baptistry Proposed

The All Saints' Episcopal Church received the "go-ahead" signal from the Planning Commission to install a beautiful stained glass window in the corner of the proposed baptistry, which will be under construction shortly after the first of the year.

The baptistry, in memory of Polly Firestone, will be designed by Bay Area artist Mark Adams who will bring a full scale mock-up of the baptistry to Carmel in January. The baptismal room has been in the planning stages for a year, and will be constructed in the contemporary styling.

Jim Kramer of Burde and Shaw, architects, explained to the Planning Commissioners that light will shine through the panels and will spill lovely patterns of colors across the floors and walls. The interior of the baptistry will be in neutral colors so the full effect from the color patterns can be obtained.

Chairman for the sales of tickets, Mrs. Robert Higgins of Ft. Ord is assisted by Youth Group members, Chris and Kathy Higgins of Ft. Ord; Mimi Seyferth of Monterey; Brian Bennett and Eric Garrison of Del Monte Forest. Also, Kristina Scherer of Pebble Beach; and in Carmel: Jane Dyer, Cindy Hill, Lauren and Kristen Homar, Katherine McEl-downey, Jim Bennett, Bill Baulkner and Randy Curtis.

Do
you wish Christmas meant more
to you?

There are some who think that the Christmas story no longer has any meaning. But the coming of the Christ is not just an isolated event that took place 2,000 years ago. For many, the joy and the inspiration of the Christ spirit come daily to help and to heal.

If you would like to know what Christmas can really mean to you, you will find some very good answers in the Christian Science Reading Room.

There you may read about the birth and the life of Jesus in the Bible. And, there you may find a book that illumines his teachings and shows you how they can inspire and uplift you today. It is called "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Won't you come in and spend a few minutes of quiet study and prayer?

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

Big Week Ahead as Christmas Nears

Christmas trees, decorations, traditional services and all the trappings of the holiday season have infected the Stevenson campus this past week. Vacation begins a week from today (Thursday) and, along with that, many campus activities are planned to celebrate the yule season. The public is invited to many of them.

Sunday, at 6:30 p.m., the boys join with parents, friends and faculty to sing carols in the Chapel, then trek into the forest to cut the giant Christmas tree that will be decorated Monday morning. Sunday morning, Holy Communion will be celebrated by the Rev. C. E. "Coach" Wilson in the school Memorial Chapel, at 10:00 a.m.

The Sophomore class has already decorated their dorm with a huge tree on the roof, covered with lights and tinsel, while the Glee Club is practicing every night to be ready for the special services on Thursday, December 14th.

Sports News: Basketball season is in full swing, with the Frosh-Soph team entering the second annual C.A.A. holiday classic at Mora High in Watsonville, taking fourth place, a repeat of last year's performance. Stars in the three day event were Willis Cook, John Enders and Bill Williams, along with help from Jim Doyle, Tim Donahoe, John Reilly and Barry Biggerstaff. Meantime, the varsity and JV's traveled to Menlo to open the season, and were beaten by some great defensive play, the Varsity dropping the game 63-41 with the JV's losing by 38-20. Showing strong form (after only three days practice) were Jeff Erlanson, George Winters, Eric Paulsen, John Cann and Mike Greene. Both Cann and Erlanson are all-stars from last season. The JV's had a good opening workout as Eric Haas, Gordon Bradley, Art Lara, Mike Eberly, Bob Ervin and Barry Nathan, along with Dan Daly, started the season. Now with a week's more practice, the teams face Gonzales for their second test of the year.

Speech: The Forensic team travels to Seaside High for a tournament this Saturday that will include local schools in addition to others from the Central Coast Counties. Both Carmel, and Santa Catalina, along with Monterey will be competing. Recently speech demonstrations have been given by Stevenson debaters to groups at Santa Catalina and Carmel High Schools: Robert Howard, Jack Booth, Bruce Decker, Joel Harris, Mike Greene, Bill Kondrat, and Lonnie Foy were involved.

Sponsors Club: Meeting at the home of Mrs. Tom Hudson this next Wednesday, the Sponsors Club (friends, faculty wives and mothers of current students) will have their annual Christmas luncheon. Items of an unusual nature will be requested from each guest to be given to the Bazaar committee. Discussion topics will include suggestions and ideas for "welcome departures" on items that are being prepared for the annual Spring event the club sponsors for Scholarships. Starting at 12:00 Noon, all are welcome, and reservations can be obtained by calling club President Mrs. John Brock at 624-6104.

WE'VE JUST LISTED
A WONDERFUL WAY OF LIFE FOR YOU
IN CARMEL VALLEY

Unique and enchanting informal home, studio and guest house, with lots of exposed wood, brick, slate floors. New, but with a comfortable, old-shoe feeling about it. Two "master" bedrooms with luxurious tile baths. Studio built for a working artist to professional standards, for professional skills, and easily adapted to many uses. Separate guest house with bedroom, delicious kitchen, lovely living room with fireplace and its own secluded patio.

It's located just off the Valley floor, MOST convenient to the Village, NOT up on the top of the mountain—although you really feel that it is, because all the glories of the Carmel Valley hills, completely screened by fencing and plantings from neighbors and rooftops, are the views from every window. Scenic easement surrounds you.

Outdoor living is on lovely, interestingly landscaped little patios which welcome the sun, or a cool grotto in the heart of a hill behind the house. Great spot to add a pool later. Lots of bearing citrus and fruit trees.

The price, we think, is very "right" at $79,500. A real pleasure to show you this fascinating, immaculately kept property. It could be a whole new way of life for you.

Carmel shops are bright with Christmas lights this season and windows are ever so lovely. The Carmel Business Association is sponsoring a contest offering three prizes of $100, $50 and $25 for the most attractive window decorations. All Carmel shops are to be judged. Shown above (L-R) are just a few of the windows decorated by Carmel businessmen and women: N. B. Florist, Lanz, and Mark Raggett's.

CBA HOLDS GALA CHRISTMAS PARTY

Cooperating with Secretary Kay Scott, the Carmel Business Association's Bud Allen and Elliott Loomis are a team who arranged an ideal setting, meal and orchestra last Thursday night for over 200 members attending the Association's annual Christmas dinner and dance.

The central theme of the party was a Christmas tree decoration contest by Association members. Judges were Mary Barter, Sue Loomis and Carmel's Mayor Steve Grant. First prize was awarded to Mrs. Hal Wilson for her mistletoe ball with a music box playing jingle bells.

Outgoing president Gus Johnson turned his office gavel over to new president Charles McEwen. Mary Barter was installed as the new vice-president and Don Chapman as treasurer. Stan Ewig, Jim Cost and Ashton Stanley were announced as the new board of director members replacing John Cunningham, Margaret Berry and Barney Segal.

Other events of the evening included presentation to past presidents Mel Campbell and Gus Johnson of gavel plaques commemorating their work.

Carmel Banker Tom Craig was introduced and applauded on his election to the presidency of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

television. During this time, a lengthy discussion followed and the Council heard constructive ideas from three Carmel citizens. As a result of the public hearing, Lou Erdle, Litton Industries, was asked to serve on a committee with Alarm Corporation representatives and the Council's Land Use Committee, to further explore technical aspects of the ordinance.

Alarm Corporation representatives were on hand to give the Council and the audience a short course on the transmission of TV pictures through micro waves, use of the most up-to-date equipment, and various other technical data.

The ordinance received its first reading and the Cable TV franchise was approved.

The Council heard Fritz Von Berg ask for the resignation of the Cultural Commissioner who said, in regard to the people who spoke at the Public Hearings on Sunset rezoning, "We are not in the business of running a playground." "It's the same people crawling out of the woodwork" who speak at these public hearings, he quoted the commissioner as saying.

Other action of the Council included the approval of a youth group to sponsor a nativity scene at Devendorf Plaza.

First Reading was given to an ordinance imposing a documentary stamp tax on the sale of real property of the City. (.27 per $500). This will result in an income to the City of about $4000 a year.

The Motel in the R-1 District ordinance received its second reading after the Council considered a letter from the Citizen's Council which ran in the Pine Cone last week.
